

NCEDSV Program Membership Overview and Application

NCEDSV invites you to join the movement to end violence by applying to become one of our Program Members. Program membership is our highest level of membership, with enhanced benefits and opportunities for your agency and the individuals you serve. Review the information below and complete the following application to be considered for membership. Please contact our Program Director Amber Batchelor at 775.857.7632 or programdir@ncedsv.org if you have any questions.

ABOUT US

OUR MISSION:

“To be the statewide voice advocating for the prevention and elimination of domestic and sexual violence through partnering with communities.”

OUR VISION:

“A Nevada in which domestic and sexual violence are eradicated and healthy relationships thrive.”

OUR VALUES:

- Social Change: We believe that ending domestic and sexual violence requires eliminating the interconnected forms of oppression that allow violence against women, and all people, to exist. We work to change the societal conditions and systems of oppression that foster violence and the abuse of power between individuals and groups of people.
- Partnering: We believe in the power of partnerships and collaboration to deliver value to our members and achieve lasting societal change. We work to engage broad segments of our communities to support the work of our members, recognizing that no one organization, entity, or person can put an end to domestic and sexual violence in isolation.
- Dignity: We value the fundamental dignity of all persons. We welcome diversity and commit ourselves to creating bias free environments. We honor and uphold the rights and dignity of program participants.
- Prevention: We believe that domestic and sexual violence are preventable. We know violence is a learned behavior, and as such, it can be unlearned, and ultimately prevented. We therefore are committed to prevention and changing the conditions that perpetuate violence.
- Respect: We foster environments of mutual respect, where individuals respect themselves and are respected by others. We recognize that individuals and domestic and sexual violence programs are at varying stages of development, and therefore meet and support them where they are.
- Safety: We are committed to actions and decisions that foster safe spaces in which people can talk, think and plan. We work to create communities and a society where domestic and sexual violence survivors can access services and live in safety.

- Empowerment: We value self-determination and the ability for individuals and programs to make decisions on their own behalf. We work to promote and increase the choices available to individuals and historically disempowered communities so that they may reclaim power.

OUR DIVERSITY STATEMENT:

The Nevada Coalition to End Domestic and Sexual Violence recognizes the importance of and affirms our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion. We believe that all people should live free of fear, abuse, oppression and violence. We respect and value all human life and welcome the diversity that makes up human kind by sex, gender, race and religion.

We recognize that our society is immersed in sexism, racism and classism. Through patriarchy and oppression many people have been mistreated and marginalized. As a coalition we challenge the use of derogatory, hateful and other characterizations in the same way we confront misused power and violence to maintain oppression. We constantly challenge ourselves to ensure that our work addresses the power structure that supports this injustice.

We believe in the access and affordability of services for all survivors of domestic and sexual violence, intimate partner violence and sexual assault. We expect member programs to serve survivors without discrimination on the basis of sex, gender, ethnicity, gender identity, ancestry, place of origin, color, citizenship, religion/spirituality, sexual orientation, marital status, economic status, employment, age, health status and ability.
